FRIENDS OF TONALIS

Tonalis: Centre for the Development of Music was set up in 1991 to provide a new vision of music and to meet the needs of people searching for a deeper understanding and experience of music, as well as new ways of studying it.

A huge number of people have benefited over the years from our workshops, courses, in-service days, trainings and concerts. In fact many people return to attend a number of our courses. However, some former participants tell us they lose contact with the Tonalis vision, because up until now there has been no organisation - such as a Friends group - to help maintain their connection.

Thus 'FRIENDS OF TONALIS' has been created for people who want to:

- 1) maintain their connection with Tonalis and be more closely associated with the work of our impulse
- 2) become more involved through actively offering their support
- 3) join a body that enables the continuing development and support of former participants and trainees to occur, as well as facilitates their on-going exchange.

For Tonalis to develop - and to meet both your needs and the deeper needs of our time, we need the help of Friends who identify with our vision to help broaden our community of supporters so that more people can experience and benefit from what we have to offer.

- ◆ We want to link up with friends of Tonalis (e.g. participants from previous courses)
- ◆ We want to link up with other organisations who identify with our aims
- ◆ We want to increase public awareness of the Tonalis organisation through
 - making it more visible and audible to a wider circle of people
 - building up its professional credibility.

If you identify with these aims we invite you to become a member of 'FRIENDS OF TONALIS'.

"We are only a few but if we hold out our hands
then other hands will come to join ours in an ever widening circle of friendship."
